

FROM THE VICAR

As many of you know, I now have a colleague to help with the running of Kempsford & Whelford churches; but I remain responsible for Castle Eaton parish as well as three of the CHEQS villages, and so we've been looking for ways to help with my administrative workload so that I'm more able to be out & about doing what vicars more obviously should.

I'm very pleased that as part of this the Parochial Church Council has agreed that I should have an Admin Assistant, and that Mike Stranks of Quenington should undertake this role.

Mike will be working with me to deal with much of the routine administration that I currently handle and to help me ensure that things are managed in a timely and efficient manner. He will have access to the email account that is used for church administration and will also help with the management of some of the rotas that I'm involved with. Mike has considerable experience of church administration and I'm certain that he will respect confidentiality and deal with these matters very well. Mike has signed a Confidentiality Agreement relating to his new role and you may be assured of his total discretion.

Of course, this doesn't mean that I shall become less accessible – quite the reverse! Mike will be working alongside me, not instead of me. I'll still be taking care of things relating to life-events such as baptisms, marriages or funerals and anything else you wish to discuss of a personal and private nature; as well as much else besides!

Should you have any questions relating to this appointment please talk to me or to Mike.

Don't miss the special events in our villages between now and Christmas – this magazine and next month's are full of news of good things.

Amongst them, our Remembrance Sunday services have a special import in this centenary year. They, like everything we do in our churches, are open to all villagers: you don't need to come often, or ever, to Sunday services to be welcome at our events!

FROM THE REGISTERS

Our love & prayers are with the families & friends of Anthony (Bill) Richard Keen, whose funeral we conducted at Hatherop recently.

BOOK BONANZA

Throughout November there are hundreds of good-quality books displayed in Coln church – all free! (Or, ideally, for a donation to church funds.) It's an end-of-season stock clearance, and it will be a great help to have as many as possible of them finding new homes. This is not sub-standard post-fete stock: all are relatively new, most have not been for sale before in our villages, and some are actually modestly valuable.

The books are in the north transept; use the light switch (the second from the left – it takes time to have effect) by the door to dispel the gloom; place donations in the wall-safe by the door. Donations of books and, especially, of packaging for postal sales (cardboard wrappers & padded envelopes) are always welcome – please leave them at the back of church.

HATHEROP BREAKFAST

This year again on the Sunday nearest St Nicholas' Day (Sunday 2 December) we're having a breakfast after our 8.30 am service of Holy Communion. It will be at Nick & Helen Owen's house, and all are welcome – so come and join us, ideally (but not essentially) after worshipping with us in church!

QUENINGTON VILLAGE HALL COFFEE MORNING

Saturday 10th, 10.30 am - 12 noon. We will have the normal delicious cakes and raffle. Anyone wishing to contribute cakes, please bring them along – costs will be reimbursed!

SOUTHROP C OF E PRIMARY SCHOOL

Southrop C of E Primary School has seen a lot of changes this term. Not only were there eight reception starters, but there were also six new members of staff. In addition, Mrs McLellan and Miss Davies have started their co-headship of the school. The first day started with cake making in worship, all the special ingredients that go in to make a fantastic school were mixed together by the Year 6s and the cake was eaten at lunch time to celebrate the start of the school year.

The whole school are focusing on this message: “ But what if I fall?” “Oh, but what if you fly!”

The children have been set the challenge to take risks with their learning, to learn from mistakes and explore things they do not know or understand yet. When they do this there is a chance for them to earn their wings. Well done Charlie and Ry - you are the first to get yours!

We have already enjoyed a number of trips to enrich our learning. The Infants are learning about Britain, and went on a trip to Cogges Farm in Witney. They started off as Anglo Saxons, where they learnt to grind flour, then travelled through time to the Victorian era, where they made beds, did the laundry and baked Welsh cakes.

The Juniors are learning about rivers and have been to Coleshill to explore the features of a river that runs through the National Trust parkland. They were delighted to catch crayfish, a baby brown trout, shrimps and mayfly larvae. There was also the opportunity to see the water mill running.

The Infants and Juniors joined together for a trip to the Cheltenham Literature Festival. Not only did they hear the authors Anthony Horowitz, Pamela Butchart and Matt Carr give talks, but many of them also got to meet the authors and have their books signed. It has really inspired the children to explore new books and authors. They recently submitted their own stories to the Luke Bitmead Literary Award and we will be able to announce the winners soon.

QUENINGTON MACMILLAN COFFEE MORNING 2018

The morning was a real buzz with over 60 people coming in to do the competitions and the bottle tombola, and most importantly, drink coffee/tea and eat cake! But a real big thank you goes out to the helpers who worked tirelessly on the day and the many prep meetings leading up to the Friday. Check out Ripples November - we may be featured!

Invites you to a showing of two films in November both at Vicarage Cottage Barn, Coln St. Aldwyns commencing at 7.30 pm (doors open 7.00):

The Post* – Friday, 9th November 2018

Steven Spielberg directs Meryl Streep and Tom Hanks in The Post, a thrilling drama about the unlikely partnership between The Washington Post's Katharine Graham (Streep), the first female publisher of a major American newspaper, and editor Ben Bradlee (Hanks), as they race to catch up with The New York Times to expose a massive cover-up of government secrets that spanned three decades and four U.S. Presidents. The two must overcome their differences as they risk their careers - and their very freedom - to help bring long-buried truths to light. Cert 12A 115mins.

Phantom Thread* – Friday, 30th November 2018

Set in the glamour of 1950's post-war London, renowned dressmaker Reynolds Woodcock (Daniel Day-Lewis) and his sister Cyril (Lesley Manville) are at the center of British fashion, dressing royalty, movie stars, heiresses, socialites, debutants and dames with the distinct style of The House of Woodcock. Women come and go through Woodcock's life, providing the confirmed bachelor with inspiration and companionship, until he comes across a young, strong-willed woman, Alma (Vicky Krieps), who soon becomes a fixture in his life as his muse and lover. Once controlled and planned, he finds his carefully tailored life disrupted by love. Cert 15 130 mins.

HATHEROP CASTLE SCHOOL

One of the greatest joys during the school holidays is to be able to read those books that have been piling up on the bookshelf. To immerse yourself in another world, another time, another life is one of life's great pleasures. However, this holiday it was not a work of fiction that grabbed my attention but a book written by Professor Daniel Willingham called "Why don't children like school?"

Professor Willingham is a cognitive scientist and professor of psychology at the University of Virginia who researches how the brain works, in particular how children learn. One of the key messages I took from this book was that "memory is the residue of thought." Encouraging children to think, to be challenged, to be curious and to engage in their learning is vital if pupils are going to remember and learn and this is something which we focusing on this year at Hatherop.

In the Pre-Prep staff have been developing a new creative curriculum which, whilst retaining a focus on the key skills of Maths and English, adopts a more topic based approach to learning. The links between science, history and geography have been made clearer by teaching topics such as Explorers. By creating a broad, encompassing and creative curriculum we are encouraging pupils to expand their knowledge, ask as well as answer questions, apply what they know to different situations and contexts and, most importantly, think about what they are learning.

In the Prep school, pupils are being encouraged to review and apply existing knowledge, to clarify and verbalise their thinking whilst teachers are using questions to really develop thinking and problem solving skills. As Daniel Willingham also says, thinking should be hard work and here at Hatherop we want pupils to enjoy working and thinking hard. The development of our Hatherop Individualised Learning Time (HILT) is also providing lots of opportunity for pupils to be challenged and supported in their thinking and learning.

Developments over the summer have not just been limited to classroom practice. Work on an all-weather astroturf in the walled garden has started and pupils, parents and staff can't wait to get on it after half term. The boarding house has undergone a dramatic transformation with improved accommodation and facilities, and a refurbished science lab and a new pre-prep classroom are all evidence of the tremendous amount of work undertaken by the site team over the summer months. It was also our pleasure to host the Arcadian theatre company this summer in the school grounds with their production of Twelfth Night.

At the time of writing we have just come to the end of our first week and it is a real pleasure to see the whole community returning to school with enthusiasm and excitement. We are all looking forward to a fun, challenging and engaging term ahead.

FAIRFORD BADMINTON CLUB

Is badminton for you?

Have you picked up your badminton racket recently thinking you really should re-start playing? Or maybe you want to start and learn a new sport. Badminton is a popular sport among people of all ages. It's easy to learn, helps keep you fit and is a fun social activity.

Badminton is a great way of staying fit and using all the muscles in your body. An hour of playing can burn about 450 calories, but it goes by fast because it is fun. Playing regularly increases muscles tone especially the arm and back muscles on the side you hold the racket.

There are great psychological benefits because it promotes physical fitness, helps reduce stress and anxiety. Exercise increases endorphins, which are the brain's feel-good neurotransmitters and has also been found to improve mood and sleep. Badminton is also likely to put you in a good mood because it's a social activity.

Fairford has a sociable badminton club that meet on Monday evenings from 8-10pm (excluding bank holidays). We play at the Farmor's Sport Centre in Fairford and would love to see some new faces. We are looking for people who want to play socially (and who have picked up a racket before) or more experienced players who might be interested in joining one of our league teams.

Players need to be 14 years old and above.

For more information, visit our website at <http://www.fairfordbadmintonclub.co.uk/> or come along to Farmor's Sports Centre, Farmor's School, Fairford, GL7 4JQ.

'SAFEGUARDING' – IMPORTANT FOR THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND; IMPORTANT FOR US ALL

The Church of England is one of the churches in the UK that's rightly been taken to task about serious safeguarding failings in the past. In this diocese we can now all be confident that these matters are taken very seriously indeed and that not only are all in positions of responsibility being trained, but also that they are being supported by highly competent, specialist practitioners.

As part of my training to equip me better to lead services in our churches I've had to spend half a day attending a 'safeguarding' briefing.

When I learnt that attendance was mandatory my first thought was, "Why?" After all, I never work alone with children – in fact I scarcely engage with children at all in my present role. But having attended a session I now more fully understand the vital importance of 'safeguarding' and making sure all of those involved in any position of responsibility in our churches attend. It's not just clergy and service leaders; PCC members, pastoral visitors and bell-tower captains and deputies are all expected to attend.

Safeguarding is not just about protecting children; it's about looking after the interests of all those who attend or come into contact with our churches in any way. Those interests may be those of people who are vulnerable through old-age, through mental or physical disability, through domestic violence, through verbal or physical bullying or various other issues. Safeguarding training is about raising awareness, understanding the importance of confidentiality and knowing where to turn when one becomes aware of a possible issue. We are fortunate in the Gloucester Diocese not only to have those with specific safeguarding responsibilities in our area, but also to have highly experienced, knowledgeable and capable people heading-up the safeguarding team at diocesan level. It's a reassurance to know that they are there 24/7 to offer help and advice to those in leadership roles in our churches.

Details of our local CHEQS people with responsibility for 'Safeguarding' may be found on the website: www.cheqs.church
